

“Leaders are made, they are not born. They are made by hard effort, which is the price which all of us must pay to achieve any goal that is worthwhile.” - Vince Lombardi

Phase 1:

What steps can you start to take to learn what you don't know? Is there someone that you can sincerely share thoughts about what you need to learn?

Phase 2:

Are you willing to swallow your pride and ask for help learning? Are you prepared to show humility?

Phase 3:

Give some examples of what resources you could use to learn from effective leaders. What practices could you keep to be a disciplined learner?

Phase 4:

What kind of daily routines do effective leaders keep? In this stage; are you willing to share what you know with others?

Teddy Roosevelt:

As a leader TR showed an iron will and a willingness to learn, what other leader have you seen exemplify this?

Challenges this week:

- Identify 1 person that you can ask to share their insights on leadership.
- Identify 1 book on leadership that you could read during the next 9 weeks.
